

I will tell you about why kids should be allowed to buy Junk food. They should be allowed to buy junk food because it takes away halloween and the fun out of other holiday's.

Kids can spend their own money how they want. It would be bad for business if they couldn't sell junk food. We would have limited food choices.

It lets kids keep control. Many health experts say there's nothing wrong with eating a candy bar or a cupcake every once in a while.

Banning junk food won't encourage kids to eat healthy food. "We have to teach children how to think, not what to think." Now you know about my opinion, that kids should be allowed to buy Junk food.
